JOURNAL OF ELDER ABUSE & NEGLECT

An International Journal

The Journal of Elder Abuse & Neglect is the peer-reviewed quarterly journal that explores the advances in research, policy and practice, and clinical and ethical issues surrounding the abuse and neglect of older people. This unique forum provides state-of-the-art research and practice that is both international and multidisciplinary in scope. The journal presents training issues, research findings, case studies, practice and policy issues, book and media reviews, commentary, and historical background on a wide range of topics, including:

- preventive strategies for elders;
- incidence and prevalence studies;
- mandatory reporting of abuse, neglect, and violence;
- standards for gerontological nursing practice;
- family caregiving of older adults;
- dependent adult children as perpetrators of neglect and abuse;
- victim assistance programs and evaluations;
- therapeutic recreation;
- spousal abuse;
- and elder self-neglect.

The Journal of Elder Abuse & Neglect provides crucial information for students and professionals in social work, nursing, medicine, law, gerontology, adult protective services, criminal justice, sociology, psychology, domestic violence, counseling, ethics, and public policy.
